BACK BAD TODAY?

Backache is usually kidney-ache and makes you dull, nervous and tired. Use Doan's Kidney Pills for weak kidneys—the remedy recommended by your friends and neighbors. Ask your neighbor.

Joseph Payne, traveling salesman, Lock Ave., Louisa, says: "I am an old user of Doan's Kidney Pills and find they do just as they are represented to do. I use Doan's now and then when my kidneys get out of order or my back gets to hurting and they always cure me up in good shape. I have, at times, been down pretty bad with my back; this broke my rest at night and next morning I arose feeling more tired than before going to bed. I always resort to Doan's Kidney Pills when I feel any of these symptoms and they soon fix me up all right. I haven't been bothered with my kidneys in quite a long time, as I give Doan's Kidney Pills the credit for having cured me."

Doan's, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Payne had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. (adv)

Proved! Tuesday! To Louisa!

Big Audience at M. E. Church South Hears Elizabeth Spencer in EDISON Tone-Test

In a test of direct comparison, made Tuesday at the M. E. Church, South, before a large audience, the New Edison scored a complete and convincing triumph.

Elizabeth Spencer, the famous soprano, sang in direct comparison with the RE-CREATION of her voice by the New Edison. To every ear, there was no difference between her living voice and her RE-CREATED VOICE.

This is the most drastic phonograph test known. No other phonograph has ever sustained it. No other phonograph has even attempted it.

The New Edison's marvelous performance of Tuesday vindicates everything that has been said or claimed for its perfect realism.

Elizabeth Spencer stood on the stage next to a shapely Chippendale cabinet. She began to sing. Her golden notes soared over the auditorium, bringing all under its magic spell.

Halfway through her song she suddenly stopped singing. The New Edison, at her side, took up her song,—and continued it alone.

Singer and phonograph thus alternated, throughout the song.

The only way the audience could be sure which was singing, was by watching Miss Spencer's lips,—so exactly like the living voice was the RE-CREATED voice.

Emil Bertl made the same test of comparison with the RE-CREATIONS of his piano selections. Again the same result—there was no difference between the RE-CREATED performance and the living performance.

Proof was piled upon proof! Evidence was massed on evidence! The end of the concert found the audience absolutely and completely convinced, through its own personal experience, that there is no difference between an artist's living performance and its RE-CREATION by the New Edison,—that listening to the New Edison is, in literal truth, the same as listening to the living artists.

The NEW EDISON

"The Phonograph with a Soul"

Only one question can still bother your mind. This question we now answer.

The instrument used in Tuesday's tests was not a special model. It was an Official Laboratory Model, taken from regular stock. Every Official Laboratory Model in our stock is guaranteed to sustain the same test of direct comparison with living artists.

You can have an Official Laboratory Model in your home. You can own an instrument which will do everything done Tuesday in the test. Come in. Hear the wonderful Official Laboratory Model for yourself. Learn about our Budget Plan, which puts our Official Laboratory Model into your home for no more than you would "pay down" for a talking machine.

Posses Search For Murderer of Girl

Harlan, Ky., Sept. 5.—Joe McCreary, an unemployed laborer, held as a suspect in the abduction, assault and murder of Mary Hornsby, 10 years old, daughter of H. A. Hornsby, a carpenter at Lynch, was to be brought here today for further quizzing by officials, while fifty deputy sheriffs were searching for a stranger who had been in Lynch several days and was seen, according to a neighbor, to dress the victim in an outhouse Saturday.

A grand jury was being impaneled here today to investigate the crime, declared the worst in the annals of Harlan county.

The negro taken into custody as a suspect Sunday was released this morning.

Bloodhounds Are On Trail.

Bloodhounds of V. G. Mulliken, Lexington, were put on the trail today at the point where the little victim's body was found at 7 o'clock Sunday morning near the Benham baseball field, 250 yards from the dwelling from which the child was carried away. They went a mile to the railroad tracks.

The bloodhound, brought in an airplane part of the way from LaFollette, Tenn., to the scene yesterday, did not develop a clue for the officers to work upon. The dog was brought from LaFollette to Middlesboro in an airplane and rushed to Lynch on a special train.

Visited Hornsby Home.

No official charge had been registered against McCreary. He admitted having visited the Hornsby home Saturday and said that Mary ironed a handkerchief for him. He had formerly been employed, but had not worked since his recent return to Lynch from North Carolina. He is 35 years old.

Mrs. Hornsby, asleep in an adjoining room on the second floor of the double, two-story frame residence, was aroused at 2:45 o'clock Sunday morning by a son, 12 years old, who had been sleeping in the same room with the victim. The frightened boy told his mother that a white man had carried away his sister.

Lamp Found Near Body.

The mother fled to the street seeking officers. Efforts to trail the abductor were unsuccessful. At 7 o'clock in the morning Deputy Sheriff George Jackson, sitting in a mine mouth across a creek, on watch surveying the country, discovered the body lying on the ground near the baseball park. A miner's lamp was near her.

It had not been determined whether the little girl had been chloroformed. She had been choked. Physicians found bruises over her body and a cut on the back of the head.

MOTHER--

let us help you prepare little daughter for School

--every needed item of her wardrobe is here.

There is real satisfaction in choosing tiny wearables from our abundant assortments, for every essential to correct and sensible outfitting is included in a most pleasing variety. From shoes to hats and from underthings to the "outermost" you can rely on our selections both for completeness and quality. Economy has not been ignored in our selections, either, and you'll find that moderate prices are the rule, even in garments of the highest type.

Much that is new and clever will be found in the Kid-dies' section for Fall. Designers have been more than liberal in their consideration of juvenile needs. Coats and frocks and her own special Millinery for the little lady from two years on, are subjects occupying the minds of experts in design these days. The new Fall displays are crammed with little models that are quite as smart, fully as correct as mother's and sister's—and even more interesting. Bring little daughter in some day and we'll try them on.

Missionary Society.

The Louisa auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society met in regular session Thursday, September 1, being postponed two days. Fourteen members answered roll call. Our president, Mrs. Charley Rice, very ably conducted the educational programme after which the business was taken up and disposed of in satisfactory manner.

Mrs. Lyington resigned as Publicity and Mission Study Superintendent on account of duties too arduous to give this office the time it should have. Mrs. Sullivan was elected to fill the vacancy. The Mission Study Class will resume its yearly work by reading "Women and Missions" by Sara Estelle Hagkins, during month of October. Eleven orders were taken by Mrs. Sullivan for Study Books. This being the Pub. Supt. duty. All who would like to study this book whether member of society or not, (after having read it at home) at "all day meeting" in church with our pastor, Rev. Bell as leader, will please give order by mail or otherwise for text book before Sept. 20, that they may be received and distributed before Oct. 1. Price of book 35c with postage added.

The hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. R. C. McClure and Mrs. Jeff Justice. The moments spent in partaking of refreshments prepared by these able women were pleasant in social chat.

MRS. NORA SULLIVAN,
Supt. Publicity and Mission Study.

A large number came out to prayer meeting Wednesday evening to greet Rev. Bell on his return to the work for another year.

Picnic For Children.

Mrs. R. C. Burton and Mrs. W. H. Berry entertained their Sunday school classes with a picnic on Wednesday afternoon which afforded much pleasure for the little ones composing the two primary classes.

THE MAYO HOUSE PARTY.

The house party given by John C. Mayo at the home in Ashland was the most brilliant affair ever given in the state. Twenty-two house guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. Mayo and his mother, Mrs. Alice M. Petteer for almost a week. An orchestra from the Gibson hotel furnished music for the occasion throughout the week and a decorator from Cincinnati did special decorating for the affairs. Everything was done for the pleasure of the guests who were from Lexington, Huntington and other points. From Louisa were Miss Katherine Thomas, who is here from Los Angeles, Cal., Miss Elizabeth Conley, J. B. Hughes, N. B. Conley and G. H. Snyder. Miss Vivian Hays was also there part of the time.

THE GAS CASE.

The trial of the case of the cities of Caltetsburg, Ashland and Louisa, against the United Fuel Gas Co., pending before the Railroad Commission, Frankfort, Ky., set for to-day, Sept. 8th, was on yesterday continued to October 8th in order to give the gas company opportunity to further prepare its case at which time all interested parties must be ready.

The present status of the case points to twenty-five cent gas after October 15, 1921, so we are informed.

Prof. T. J. Coats president of the Eastern Kentucky Normal School at Richmond was in Louisa a few days ago in the interest of that institution. He is a native of Pike county and ranks as one of the best educators in Kentucky.

Lawrence County HIGH SCHOOL Will Open Sept. 12 at Louisa

HARD TO GET PAST HIM

THE ELDER HARDING AND HIS BRIDE

The first photograph of Dr. George T. Harding, father of the President, who at 72 has taken his stenographer, Miss Alice Severns, 52, as his bride. The two are continuing their work at Marion, Ohio. She is aiding him in his office practice. The bride has been his assistant for eight years.

THE STRUGGLE OF GENIUS.

I long have harbored the intention, to give the world a great invention; I felt that I should be a power in brightening the passing hour,—that I might be a big promoter, instead of being a third-rate voter. . . . Few men acquire the needed riches to keep themselves in tailored breeches,—too many men, content with clerking, might prosper if their brains were working. . . . Full many a gem works in the sewer, that might invent a patent skewer and line his nest with softest Elider, and soak his pelt with orange cider.

And so, I monkeyed some with science, to give the needed self-reliance, and studied warts and multi-plexes, and waterways from here to Texas. I hung around the soda-fountains, and figured how I'd conquer mountaineers, and turn 'em into cyclone cellars, and rent 'em out to common fellers.

I turned my thoughts to pests and dangers, to which the multitude are strangers, and labored to produce protection which didn't have no imperfection. A thousand badly needed fixtures,—a million hopeful, helpful mixtures, all helped to keep my thinker added till all my dreams of wealth skeddaddled, and I was left in bad condition, an overstock of dead ambition.

Thrice happy he, and most contented, the chap who never has invented, and if he tries, he's sure to rue it; some other fool will beat him to it.

For your trouble John.

A Tonic For Women

CARDUI The Woman's Tonic

"I decided to try it," continues Mrs. Ray. . . . "I took eight bottles in all. . . . I regained my strength and have had no more trouble with womanly weakness. I have ten children and am able to do all my housework and a lot outdoors. . . . I can sure recommend Cardui."

Take Cardui today. It may be just what you need. At all druggists.

HOME CIRCLE COLUMN

A COLUMN DEDICATED TO TIRED MOTHERS AS THEY JOIN THE HOME CIRCLE AT EVENING TIDE.

Are All The Children In? The darkness falls, the wind is high, Dense black clouds fill the western sky.

The storm will soon begin: The thunders roar, the lightnings I hear the great round raindrops dash—

Are all the children in? They're coming softly to my side: Their forms within my arms I hide: No other arms are sure.

The storm may rage with fury wild, With trusting faith each little child "With mother feels secure."

But future days are drawing near: They'll go from this warm shelter here

Out in the world's wild din: The rain will fall, the cold winds blow, I'll sit alone and long to know

Are all the children in?

Labor Day. The first Monday in September is a day set aside to commemorate the dignity of labor.

The war did a great deal toward raising the status of labor. Up until this time it was the general belief that only those people worked who had to work. But when the war came and many people sought work for patriotic reasons this belief gradually died away. After a year or more of war work many people who otherwise would not have considered earning their daily bread, found that they were not satisfied without some form of steady employment. As a result we find hundreds of the hitherto idle rich remaining industriously "on the job" eight hours a day.

As we said before, this has done a great deal toward raising the status of labor, for it proves that steady employment is worth more than just the financial remuneration one may receive.

Every earnest worker should try to get the real worth out of his job. If he works only for what his pay envelope contains, then he is getting poor pay and losing a great deal of joy out of life. If there is nothing in your work for you except the pay you receive, for doing then try something you enjoy doing even if it does not pay as well for there is nothing so degrading or nothing that will make you lose your self-respect sooner than to force your head to do work that your heart abhors, and after all, isn't it foolish, just for the sake of a few paltry dollars, to make your working day a night mare?

Everyone reads quite a bit lately about the power of thought and the more we read the more we become convinced that a man's thoughts do react very strongly upon himself for good or evil as the case may be.

For a while the idea rather bothered us that if anyone should take a dislike to us through circumstances beyond our control, and should throw evil thoughts in our direction, we would, quite unjustly, suffer from these evil thought forms. However, this idea has been refuted by modern religionists and psychologists. It seems that if you have no evil in your mind to attract a like force coming toward you, it does not reach you and consequently does no harm. It is only when we hold hatred for an enemy that his evil thoughts can do us any harm. Consequently we see that to return good for evil is the happiest solution to all our problems.

Sometimes among events that move so swiftly and with our desire to get away from old fashioned ideas and keep always abreast of the times, we became a little careless in our classification of what old fashioned ideas are and as a consequence we are losing sight of many of the sacred things out of life.

Let us not sell our birth right for a "mess of pottage" for after all many of the things which seem so important and for which we sometimes sacrifice a great many worth while things are only fads and not worth a passing thought. Let us be sure before giving up an old and tried ideal, that it is not worth more to us than any new one which we may select to take its place.
